

FETMAN, GARLAND & ASSOCIATES LTD

PRESS RELEASE

April 30, 2007

My name is Corri D. Fetman. I am the Founder and President of Fetman, Garland & Associates, Ltd., a boutique law firm that provides high quality representation in family law and divorce for both men and women. We are experienced in all aspects of divorce, custody, and matrimonial law and have assisted hundreds of men and women achieve successful outcomes.

I am writing to you to provide you with an early preview of our new advertising campaign. This advertising campaign is unique and inimitable. I am certain that you will find it unlike any other law firm ad campaign you have ever seen.

Traditional law firm advertising is boring and blithe. Our new campaign is true to who we are, namely: Aggressive, Non-Judgmental and Strategic. The ad campaign also portrays what we believe which is that everyone deserves happiness. In short, we believe that life is too short to stay stuck in an unhappy marriage.

Our "Life's Short. Get a Divorce." advertising campaign will begin running in Chicago on May 1, 2007. The place most Chicagoans will encounter our message will be a large four-color billboard atop Chicago's legendary Gibson's Steakhouse, located at 1029 North Rush Street—at the epicenter of the neighborhood Chicagoans refer to as "The Viagra Triangle." We chose this location to display our advertising creative because it will expose our message to adults while they are escaping reality and in "play mode."

The future of our ad campaign will also include other marketing tactics centered on the promotion of happiness without judgment. We believe our ad campaign will have the effect of leaving the public anxiously awaiting the arrival of next month's hot female and male models!

We think our advertising is fantastic and innovative and look forward to hearing your opinion.

Thank you.

Corri D. Fetman, Esq.
